Leadership Florida visits the Glades

Leadership Florida, a class (training school of sorts) made up of individuals who contribute to their communities and cities of Florida came together recently to discuss and learn more about the Glades and South Bay's Rural Economic Development.

The meeting was held Sept. 22, at South Bay Commission Chambers and was the first Leadership Florida class, of their session, to visit the Glades.

Among the 50 participants in the class were bankers, city officials, and business people, etc. ranging from Tallahassee to Miami.

The main focus of Leadership Florida is to learn of issues which impact Florida as a whole. Some issues Leadership Florida discussed were environmental and economic issues that have plagued South Bay and the surrounding Glades areas.

Past classes have discussed not only environmental and ern Palm Beach County, approximately 18 miles east of Belle Glade.

The victim is a black male in his early 20's, 5' 8" tall, with a thin build. The victim's hair was fashioned into mini dreads, approximately one inch long. The victim had no scars, marks, tattoos, or other outstanding features. The victim was killed the weekend of Sept.

9, and his death is classified as a murder (homicide).

The Sheriff's Department stated, "We are requesting the public's help in identifying this individual and those who are responsible for his death. If you have any information in reference to this case, please call the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office at 996-1655 or 688-4000."

economic issues but also the educational system and educational issues.

Mayor Clarence Anthony was host to the group. Guest speakers were Dr. Joseph Orsenigo, an historian of the Glades area; Tony McRay of the Glade Community Development Corporation; and Tom Giuffrida, publisher of the Palm Beach Post.

"The goal of this group was to learn more about other cities like South Bay and the surrounding Glades area in order to go back to their cities and communities and think not only as a single city, but to think as a state," said Mayor Anthony.

"What I hope to accomplish with the things that have happened here, in South Bay, is to motivate others to become more involved in the public government and systems; ask other cities to think about the impact of communities who rely on only one source for economic development; and ask communities to invite other opportunities into their cities in hopes of remaining financially stable, before their cities end in the economic struggle that South Bay is now faced with, after the closing of South Bay Growers.

"I would also like to encourage citizens to get an education and start businesses of their own in order for them to become better economically stable," stated Mayor Anthony.

The Leadership Florida class ends in March. At the end of the class, participants will come up with a class project.

"We don't know what the class project will be or even if it will effect the Glades, but we will, we will always welcome future Leadership Florida classes to the Glades," concluded Mayor Anthony.

Second Families Forum focuses on local problems and solutions

By Brenda Bunting

Editor

The movers and shakers from many diverse agencies met with residents all day Saturday to learn what problems face the Glades and how they can help.

Channel 12 News Anchor Tim Malloy was the facilitator for the event, which drew over 400 people. The decision makers from the fields of education, health care, government and charitable agencies headed the panels.

How to bring economic prosperity to the area, adequate housing, affordable health care, overcrowding in the schools, public safety - these were just a few of the issues addressed. A new panel was set up this year, according to Scot Kannell, executive director of the Glades Area Association for Retarded Citizens. "We added an HIV/AIDS breakout session because people felt they wanted to know more about this issue," he said.

Seven local parents were honored for their parenting skills in raising educated, productive children. They were: Morales St. Hilaire, Jose Cruz, Vernice Jackson, Annie Mae Palmer, Frances M. Nelms, James Sims and Airfield Spears.

West County Mental Health's "Tee-Off for Kids" tourney is successful

By Bubbie Chapman
Staff Writer

There was a fun-filled day of golf Saturday, Sept. 23 at the Belle Glade Municipal Golf Course, with the 8th annual "Tee-Off For Kids" golf tournament sponsored by West County Mental Health Clinic. A total of 18 teams competed in the tournament.

The tournament was a four-man scramble format, and teams played the regular 18 hole golf game. Monies raised from the tournament will benefit children's programs like: Nat Kahn Centers for Child and Family Services, the PANDA program for pregnant and addicted parents and the Alpha program.

Winners of the tournament were: Fourth place - Dan Kirchman, Winston Byrd, Rollin Austin and Curt Thompson won a $25 gift certificate; Third place - Hal Romper, Ken Nicklas, Barry Clark and Brandon Clark won a $50 gift certificate; Gene Corneli, Nata Manning, Mayon McMullen and Dennis McCarthy won a $75 gift certificate; and First place - Fred Bishop, John Jackson, Lloyd Greene and Dennis Miller won a $100 gift certificate.

For the past eight years, West County Mental Health Clinic has held the golf tournament. Executive Secretary Sharon Sheppard, Executive Director Joseph Amato, Chairman of the Community Relations Committee Ken Schenck and other board members were in charge of arrangements and set up of the tournament.

This year, organizers said the volunteer help of the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Explorer group was much appreciated. The Explorers helped to set up the food area, pass out drinks to participants and help monitor holes.

West County Mental Health Clinic would like to acknowledge area businesses for their generous contributions of golf sets and carts for the tournament, also Barnett Bank of Lake Okeechobee for golf balls, Bank of Belle Glade for pads and pencils, First Union Bank for groove cleaners and tees, First Community Bank of Palm Beach County for sun visors, and Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce for Glades area brochures and printed literature. They said a special thanks also goes to the corporate sponsors; Valic, Inc., County Sanitation and Esmor Corporation.

The tournament has become an annual event for West County Mental Health and with participation as hearty as it was this year, the group looks forward to holding the tournament again next year," said Executive Director Joseph Amato.

1995's weather is not that weird

By Mike Lyons

Things do not change, we do. Henry David Thoreau was talking about people when he wrote that passage. Yet, the weather is one of those "things" that does change - especially this year.

The first 10 months of 1995 have been full of weird and wacky weather around the United States.

There have been so many hurricanes and tropical storms some people feared we'd run out of names. A severe summer drought in New York was blamed for a series of damaging forest fires. Blistering heat in the Midwest claimed hundreds of lives in Chicago and, most recently, a snow storm on the last day of summer damaged 80 percent of the trees in Denver.

What's going on? Surprisingly, according to one expert, all of this strange weather is actually quite normal.

The usual thing for the weather is to be unusual some of the time," said James Wagner, a weather forecaster for the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration in Washington DC. "If the weather was the same all of the time, then that would really be unusual."

Mr. Wagner's job is to keep track of the world's changing weather patterns. He says the weather of 1995 is somewhat similar to the weather of the 1930's. "If you think this year has seen some extraordinary weather you should examine the climate of 1935 and 1936," said Mr. Wagner. "No period in our history can match those two years."

It began in April of 1935 with what has been called the "black blizzard." It was a colossal dust storm that formed in eastern Colorado and practically swallowed up Kansas and Oklahoma.

The dust was so thick residents could not see the hand in front of their face. It made the Great Depression even more depressing.

The hurricane season produced another monster storm. On Sept. 2, 1935, a hurricane more powerful than Andrew hit the Florida Keys. It had winds of 200 mph and the lowest barometric pressure ever recorded.

The winter of 1935-36 was just as bad - long and cold. In Fargo, North Dakota, the temperature dropped below zero for 37 consecutive days. In Great Falls, Montana, the temperature plummeted to 49 degrees below zero on February 15, 1936 - a record that exists to this day.

wet and very stormy. Floods claimed 107 lives in Ohio and Virginia. Over 400 people died in Mississippi and Georgia from a series of tornadoes in early April.

The incredibly bad weather continued through summer. It is to this day the hottest summer on record. Fifteen statewide high temperature records set during that summer still remain today. Residents of Grand Island, Nebraska saw the mercury soar to an incredible 117 in July of 1936. The temperature reached 115 in Tulsa, 114 in Topeka, and 113 in Kansas City during that summer of searing heat.

Our recent spell of unusual weather pales in comparison to that amazing two year period in the 1930's. "The weather back in the 30's puts 1995 in better perspective," said Mr. Wagner. "When the weather seems unusual a check of the records reveals that it has actually been worse in the past."

Why was it so bad back in the 30's? "You just have these seasons when the global weather patterns come together to give you a very active year," he said. What caused those patterns to come together is still a mystery.

Mr. Wagner says it's still too early to tell if those patterns have returned. If they have come back, then the weather we regard as unusual might actually become the norm.

Mike Lyons is the weatherman for WPBF, Channel 25.

Talked to any good machines lately?

By Paula Swaford, R.N.

Back home in Indiana, my mother owned and ran a small grocery store. Behind the counter on the wall was a telephone with no dial or buttons, just a handle we turned to connect us with the operator.

I can remember when I finally grew tall enough to stand on a stool and up on my tiptoes to speak into the "horn" that protruded from the telephone base. What a grown-up thing it was to talk on the phone!

Of course, the operator knew everyone in town and all the business of the town sooner or later. When we graduated to a private line, we thought we had "died and gone to heaven."

Several years down the road, someone decided that it would be a handy thing to have a machine to record messages. The answering machine with all its technology rapidly spawned the "voice mail" and even more sophisticated answering machines.

I don't know about you, but talking to machines can make me uncomfortable. Due to the increased use by physicians, and other medical providers, we all need to make sure that our messages come through loud and clear.

Here are a few tips to ensure that your important message doesn't get lost in the crowd.

Identify people, place and time. Don't assume that the caller knows who you are just by the sound of your voice. State the purpose of your call and speak clearly.

Remember, voice quality doesn't always reproduce well on tape, so pronounce all syllables and consonants crisply. This is especially important when speaking with a physician's office regarding drug names and medical terms.

Talk slowly and make an effort to keep your speech from slurring. Pace yourself and don't rush what you have to say. If you speak in a natural tone you will capture the listener's attention and allow him to listen more comfortably.

Make each word count. Try writing your message down ahead of time if speaking on a recorder tends to make you nervous. Avoid sloppy mutterings like "um," and "you know," and speak clearly.

Avoid talking when angry or upset as your voice will convey your feelings and send a "negative" message which the listener may be tempted to tune out.

Be sure to end your message politely. The few extra seconds you take to say "thank you" could be the difference in your receiver's response time.

Of course, the ideal situation would be talking face to face. However, we have to realize that answering machines have become a necessary evil of our society and we need to learn to use them effectively in our day to day communication.

Until next time...stay informed and stay healthy.

"My Big Brother"

By Dan Jenkins

I have no way of knowing exactly how many times (but it must number in the thousands) I have been asked, "Are you related to Jerry Jenkins?" I do know that every time I have answered with pride, "Yes, he's my big brother." Let me tell you about him.

We shared a room together as we grew up in Huntsville, Alabama, and on the wall was a poster showing a big brother struggling, but carrying his little brother through the deepest snow. The caption below the picture was, "He ain't heavy, Father, he's my brother."

You want to know about my brother? That's him, carrying me through the toughest parts of my life. I grew up believing, as I still do, that there is no "snow" so big that my brother will not carry me through.

I wish everybody on earth had a brother like mine. Though he is only about four years older than I, he has been the trailblazer whose footprints have been so clear. What a role model he has been throughout all of my life!

I can truthfully say that I have never known him to do one wrong thing in his life! (No, he can't say that about me.)

He was and is my hero. I wish I could be as kind as he is, as much a lover of others, and as much a lover of righteousness. He makes me want to go to heaven so I can just be around him. I wish that everyone had such a brother. Our lives have gone down the same road so many times. We both attended Athens Bible School and married our high school sweethearts after graduating from Freed-Hardeman College. We both attended Lipscomb and majored in the same field. We did our first preaching in the same congregations around Huntsville. We both have four children.

We both have preached in Birmingham, Alabama, (I was there for 10 years.) He's been at the same congregation for nearly 30 years.

There is no way the picture in our bedroom could be reversed. I could never carry him, he's so much bigger than I. But I tell you this, I'd die trying.

Thank you, Jerry, for being such a brother.

This article was submitted by Belle Glade resident Clinton Turner who found this article in a Christian bulletin he was reading. Mr. Turner says he feels this is a wonderful example of sibling love. "It seems some siblings hate each other these days. It's refreshing to know that this kind of love does exist," he said.

October is Family History Month. Anyone who would like to share a story of sibling love can submit an article 300 words or less about the special bond they share with a sister or brother. Deadline is October 19.

The information highway is not always a safe place

By Lisa Bolivar

University of Florida News

Businesses risk losing their shirts through Internet fraud if they are using the Information Highway without taking security measures, say two University of Florida computer engineers.

While government and military agencies always are looking to improve security, private businesses have not begun to protect themselves on a large scale, said Professor Yuan-Chieh Chow of the College of Engineering's Department of Computer & Information Science and Engineering.

"It's natural for the Army and the government to be concerned with computer security when you think about the strategic information they hold," Dr. Chow said. "But commercial firms have not paid attention to security policies, and when they get hit they tend not to talk about it."

Assistant Professor Richard Newman-Wolfe, also a CISE department member, is working with Dr. Chow to develop methods of keeping computer networks safe from tampering.

The two are developing protocols, a part of a computer program that will deal with security problems by implementing complicated algorithms.

"A protocol is something you can execute and use for screening interactively," Dr. Newman-Wolfe said, adding that protocols can be tailored to meet specific company needs as more and more industries join the electronic highway.

The professors say the information highway is not always a safe place to conduct business. Banks, industry, hospitals and other firms are now using the network to exchange information because Internet communication is fast and efficient. But, Dr. Chow and Dr. Newman-Wolfe said, it is not private.

Sensitive information such as credit card numbers, confidential medical records and bank accounts can be primary targets for thieves looking to make a quick dollar through security breaches.

These thieves can break into corporate computer accounts and gain access to anything from money to personal information, Dr. Newman-Wolfe said.

"The Internet was originally designed by and for a rather elite group," he said. "But now we see other folks, and there are millions of them added to the Internet yearly, who now use E-mail. The problem is this opens it up to tremendous security vulnerability."

Some high-tech crooks make a careers out of computer fraud, he said. "There are people out there who sit around all day trying to figure out how to break into business accounts," he said. "Some do it for mischief, others to make money, like the ones who steal credit card numbers to sell."

In addition to gaining access to bank accounts, medical records and corporate secrets, computer bandits can change files, edit E-mail messages and World Wide Web files or block user access to credit cards, Dr. Newman-Wolfe said.

"You can't solve the problem by leaving the network because we need the network to get our jobs done these days," he said. "You lose the competitive edge if you're not connected to the network and you might lose your shirt if you don't do it with security."

By creating protocols that will address the three major security concerns: user identification, user access to accounts and control of how users interact with information, Drs. Chow and Newman-Wolfe said, businesses will be better protected from information superhighway robbery.

The professors say security systems can include several "gates" that must be passed through before access to information is granted. These gates may begin with identification numbers for specific users that are cross-referenced with files accessible only to those users.

"Each person has their own day, so to speak," Dr. Newman-Wolfe explained.

"That key could be a code number, much like the pin number on an ATM account."

Once a security system is in place, if someone from "outside" does breach it, another aspect of the doctor's design can identify the intruder and block future intrusions by fixing the weak areas that allowed penetration.

"This is kind of like the black box on airplanes where you can go back and identify the security breach and then better your security systems," Dr. Chow explained. "If you have this deterrent, you know that if somebody breaks into your system, they will be caught."

Sharika Brown receives $5,000 scholarship

Sharika Brown of Belle Glade recently received a $5,000 scholarship toward her college education from the Mary Kay National Scholars Program.

Brown, a graduate of Glades Central High School said, "I was honored to have been selected as a Mary Kay scholarship recipient because of the recognition that I received for my academic achievements."

She will pursue a degree in chemical engineering from Purdue University in South Bend, Ind.

The Mary Kay National Scholars Program is administered through the Horatio Alger Association, whose mission is to honor Americans who have overcome adversity in their lives to achieve tremendous success. Since her own 1978 induction into the Horatio Alger Association, Mary Kay Ash, company founder and chairman emeritus, has been an active board member with particular interest in the scholarship program.

"From the beginning, Mary Kay Cosmetics has been helping women achieve their dreams of financial independence as entrepreneurs," said Ash. "In keeping with this vision of making dreams come true for others, we established the Mary Kay National Scholars Program to ensure that young women, who have overcome some of the most challenging hardships in our society, have the opportunity to pursue a college education."

The Mary Kay National Scholars Program reaches out to those young women who, despite the hardships in their lives, are determined to go to college and are in critical need of assistance. In order to qualify, students had to demonstrate integrity, self-reliance, determination, and perseverance in overcoming adversity; critical financial need; academic potential, as determined by test scores, grades and recommendations; participation in co-curricular school activities; commitment to the community as evidenced through volunteer work or other forms of service; and potential and aspiration to make a unique contribution to society.

Selection of the Mary Kay National Scholars is done by the Horatio Alger Association through its National Scholarship Committee, comprising five of the association's members. A total of $100,000 in scholarships was awarded to female high school students this year.

The Mary Kay line includes more than 200 premium products in nine categories: basic skin care, skin supplements, color cosmetics, nail care, hair care, body care, sun protection, fragrances and men's skin care. More than 20 million United States consumers purchase approximately 135 million Mary Kay products each year. There are more than 400,000 independent Mary Kay Beauty Consultants operating their own Mary Kay business in 25 countries worldwide.

O'Say Child Development Center opening in Pahokee October 2

By Buffle Chapman

Staff Writer

O'Say Child Development Center held its open house Saturday, Sept. 23, at 255 South Lake in Pahokee.

The Development Center will not only be a daycare but also a learning center for children ages 2 to 5 years old. On staff are Tina Jones, Talia Hill, Bonnie Sterling, Cornesha Dukes and Education Receptionist Specialist Patricia Williams.

All employees have their CDA's (Child Development Accreditation) and all backgrounds range from 3 to 5 years of working in daycares and with children. Director Cornesha Dukes graduated from Glades Central High School and also from the University of Florida with a degree in Sociology.

"I am originally from Belle Glade, had lived in Pahokee for four years, and I am back in Pahokee to give something back to my community," said owner Ms. Dukes.

The O'Say Child Development Center will be open from the hours of 6:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. in order to accommodate working parents and individuals who must travel distances to and from work.

Breakfast, lunch and afternoon snacks will be included in the per week fee. There is also a non-refundable registration fee payable at enrollment. A special discount offer will be extended until Oct. 13.

Ms. Dukes is presently working with the Palm Beach County School Board to get a contract which will allow O'Say Child Development Center to accept At Risk Children, AFDC working parents, Teen parents and Title 20 recipients.

The O'Say Child Development Center is set up like classrooms, in order to focus on building the skills and coordinations of each individual age group. The idea is to teach the children as they grow, to move them up in class as the ages change, like in real school situations. The daycare has a reading room (library), a play area, and also an inside fun room for hot and rainy days in case the children cannot go outside to play.

The staff at O'Say would like to extend thanks to Tyrone Hill and Arika Eddy for their help in setting up the building for open house.

O'Say Child Development Center will open its doors for business on Oct. 2. For further information or to enroll, contact the center's director for details at 924-2620.

Positively Speaking to offer free screenings for National Depression Screening Day

Mental health professionals from West County Mental Health will offer local residents the opportunity to learn about the signs and symptoms of depression and to participate in a free screening as part of National Depression Screening Day, Thursday, Oct. 5. The free program will be held from 9:12 and 1:15 at Positively Speaking Counseling Center on 607 S. Main Street in Belle Glade.

National Depression Screening Day, held each year during Mental Illness Awareness Week, was developed by Harvard Psychiatrist, Dr. Douglas Jacobs. Last year, more than 82,000 people attended screenings at 2,000 sites nationwide. National Depression Screening Day inaugurated the concept of screening for a mental illness, when it began five years ago.

Participants at the Positively Speaking Counseling Center will hear a brief talk on the causes, symptoms, and treatments of depression followed by a short video. Individuals will complete an anonymous written screening test for depression and have the opportunity to discuss the results with a mental health professional.

Depression strikes more than 17 million Americans each year, according to figures from the National Institute of Mental Health. Fewer than half of them, however, actually seek treatment even though treatment can help 80 percent of those affected.

We hope that this nationwide effort to provide mental health screening for depression will educate the public about the signs and symptoms of depression and encourage those who may be vulnerable to seek evaluation and treatment," said Associate Director, Dr. David Bolton.

National Depression Screening Day is sponsored on the national level by the American Psychiatric Assn., American Institute of Mental Health, Harvard Medical School Psychiatry Dept., National Mental Health Assn., National Depressive and Manic Depressive Assn., AAP, National Alliance for the Mentally Ill, and McLean Hospital. Supporters include the American Psychiatric Foundation, the American Assn. of Suicidology, the National Assn. of Psychiatric Health Systems, the American Assn. of General Hospital Psychiatrists, the American Hospital Assn. Psychiatric Services Section, Employee Assistance Professional Assn., and Wellness Councils of America. In addition, Eli Lilly and Co. has provided a generous educational Grant.

Air Force drill team to perform at Pahokee High School Oct. 12

A bayonet fixed to an M-1 rifle, passing within an inch of someone's face is always an attention getter.

Imagine seven minutes of twirling weapons and flashing bayonets, and you've got an attention getting performance of an four-man unit from the United States Air Force Presidential Honor Guard Drill Team. This show-stopping highlight has the drill commander standing at attention, flanked by four Team members, who simultaneously hurl their bayoneted weapons over and around the commander, performing a sequence unmatched by any other professional drill team.

This 20-member precision rifle drill team, who will be performing at the Pahokee High School on Oct. 12, spends between 250 and 280 days a year on the road and is home based out of Bolling Air Force Base, in Washington, D.C. They perform at hundreds of high schools each year, as well as at air shows, major theme parks and on national television programs.

More recently, drill performances have been done on Jay Leno's Tonight Show, at the Major League Baseball All-Star Game and National Football League Super Bowl, in the Virgin Islands and for the President at the White House.

For more action packed excitement, the Drill Team also has a 12-man performance, which lasts about 22 minutes. The drill consists of precise weapon movements and a series of complex tosses and exchanges, using an M-1 rifle with fixed bayonet weighing in excess of 13 pounds. After the performances, team members will seek out and speak with the younger members of the audience to pass along the opportunities that are available in the Air Force.

"Our goal is to draw the attention of the young Americans, spark their interest in the Air Force as a whole, and then try to sell them on the benefits of pursuing a career in the military," said Capt. Stacey Hawkins, officer in charge of the Drill Team.

For more information on the team, write:

Pahokee's Petty Officer McKee departs on overseas deployment

Navy Petty Officer 1st Class Michael McKee, a 1979 graduate of Pahokee High School of Pahokee, has departed on a six-month overseas deployment aboard the guided missile cruiser U.S.S. Bunker Hill, as part of the U.S.S. Independence Battle Group.

McKee is one of 450 sailors aboard the cruiser, which departed Yokosuka, Japan, along with four other ships. The U.S.S. Independence Battle Group is a formidable force equipped with jet fighters and attack aircraft, helicopters, and ships armed with Tomahawk cruise missiles. Extremely mobile and flexible, the battle group can operate together, or can be deployed simultaneously to separate geographic regions. McKee's ship can travel nearly 700 miles a day.

McKee and fellow sailors spent the last year training for a variety of situations they might encounter during the deployment. They will replace the U.S.S. Abraham Lincoln Battle group, which has been operating in the Western Pacific Ocean and Persian Gulf enforcing the no-fly zone over Southern Iraq.

McKee will travel approximately 20,000 miles during the six-month voyage, spending much of his time at sea conducting operations with U.S. and foreign naval forces. The 567-foot-long guided missile cruiser is a multi-purpose ship capable of combatting aircraft, ships and submarines. With a sophisticated high-tech radar and combat system, U.S.S. Mobile Bay is one of the battle group's main anti-air warfare assets. Equipped with Harpoon and Tomahawk cruise missiles, which can strike targets hundreds of miles away, McKee's ship has tremendous offensive capability.

McKee's involvement in the deployment is an example of how U.S. men and women are serving in the Navy and Marine Corps around the world from the Persian Gulf and Western Pacific Ocean to the Mediterranean Sea in support of U.S. interests. Whether projecting power ashore, delivering humanitarian assistance, cargo or troops from the sea, these highly trained naval forces provide a unique forward presence and crisis-response option, which can be withdrawn quickly when no longer needed.

He joined the Navy in June 1980.

Gators roll over Bulldogs

By Eddie Campbell

Last Friday the Glades Day Gators hosted the Frostproof Bulldogs in a non-district contest. The Gators were expecting a tough battle against a bigger 3A class school, but the opposite was true. The Gators rolled in business-like fashion by the score of 46-14.

The Gators didn't wait too long to get on the scoreboard this game. On Frostproof's first drive Senior Farris Shatara intercepted a Bulldog pass and ran 25 yards for a touchdown. The Gator defense scored again in the first quarter when Brad Seider and Michael Hollon combined on a safety making the score 9-0 Gators.

The Gator offense put together their most unorthodoxed drive of the season during the first half. Senior punter Wren Sloan took a low snap and ran 23 yards for a first down to keep the Gator drive alive. On the next Gator fourth down upback Farris Shatara took the snap and found Brad Seider for a 29 yard reception and another first down on the Bulldog six yard line. Tailback Lee Sweet capped off the drive with a one yard touchdown run.

In the second quarter Lee Sweet answered a Bulldog 70 yard touchdown run with a 70 yard touchdown run of his own which made the score 23-6 Gators. The Gators then recovered a Bulldog fumble and capitalized on it when quarterback Jackie Garrett found Brad Seider in the endzone for an 11 yard touchdown. The Gator 2 point conversion was good which made the score 31-6 Gators. Safety Wren Sloan then intercepted a Bulldog pass and returned it to the Frostproof 15. This setup Garrett's five yard touchdown pass to Sophomore tight end Pablo Sanchez. The first half ended with the Gators up 39-6.

The second half action was much slower than the first half's barrage of scoring. The Gators lone score happened in the fourth quarter when Sweet scored from five yards out. Sweet ended the night with 28 carries for 201 yards and three touchdowns. Brad Seider ended the night with 2 receptions for 43 yards and 1 touchdown. On defense Seider had nine tackles, one sack, and one interception. "This game shows that this year we can play with higher caliber teams," was Coach Mandy Perez's comments after the game. The Gators will play King's Academy in a district matchup on October 6.

Who can forget the heat at the afternoon Benjamin game? Maybe the Glades Day School fan waving the banner was just trying to fan the crowd. It's for sure the Benjamin team won't forget the beating they took from the Gators.

Pahokee loses home opener 7-21

By Robbie Everett

Last week's home opener against the Suncoast Chargers found the Blue Devils missing several key players with injuries. Jerome West and Roland Jackson were both in leg casts, while James Burroughs had a broken finger. Lefann Williams played with a sprained ankle sustained in the Cocoa game. Although he was in pain, Williams was still able to compile 122 yards in the losing effort.

Pahokee and Suncoast battled to an almost scoreless first half. With two minutes and forty one seconds left in the second quarter a Pahokee turnover set up Suncoast's first score. A fumbled, bouncing ball was caught in mid-air at the goal line and fallen on in the endzone.

Pahokee tied the game on the first possession of the second half as they mounted an impressive drive of 80 yards. Freshman quarterback Anquan Boldin connected with Senior Jeremy Banks on a 12 yard pass. Banks eluded defenders and sidestepped his way in for the score.

Next week Pahokee will host a district game against Melbourne Central Catholic. The Blue Devil gridirons need this game to stay in contention for the play off.

Halftime was as exciting as expected. The battle of the bands continued the competition on the field. The Chargers band came ready to duel with the latest dance routine. However, the O.D. Express, the most televised band in South Florida, was in rare form.

Channel 12 News team arrived at half time and again featured the Express Marching Band on Dan's Dozens-Frantic Friday Night Football Report.

Watch out, leaders, Clay Connell is out to get you!

Clay Connell with Badcock Furniture has a 40-10 win/loss record. That's four behind our two leaders, Earl Wingate with Bernie Little and Mike Burkett with Lake Hardware who are tied for first place.

Clay has a message for Earl and Mike - "Watch out! I'm out to get you!"

Clay said he knows Mike and Earl are veteran players and tough to beat, but he's studying the teams and believes he can pull ahead if he works hard. Clay says he always picks the local teams and he was hurt when Pahokee lost this week, but he knows almost everyone else also picked Pahokee to win.

"I'm a big Hurricane fan and a Dolphin fan," he said. "I'm betting that Miami will beat FSU this week."

Not far behind Mike and Earl is Jimmy at Jimmy's Sales and Service and "Big A" Vereen at Glades Ford. Both have 41 correct picks and 9 crackers.

Also tied with Clay is Hattie Bennett with Barnett Bank, Warren Howell with Howell Oil and Vera Robinson with the Paint Store.

It wouldn't take much to upset this apple cart, so watch closely and readers are encouraged to give the players some tips when they're out shopping in these stores.

Until next week... "Don't get mad, get even!"

Pahokee's Offensive player of the week is #33 Lafann Williams

Pahokee's Defensive player of the week is #82 Jeremy Banks

Pahokee Blue Devils

Offensive player of the week Lafann Williams rushed for 122 yards on 20 carries despite being hobbled by a bruise on his shin. Lafann is the son of Earneste Williams of Pahokee.

Defensive player of the week is Jeremy Banks who made a jarring tackle on Suncoast's Gari Scott that caused Scott to fumble. Pahokee recovered to stop a scoring threat. Jeremy is the son of Charles Banks and Gloria Burgess of Pahokee.

Both men hope to obtain a college scholarship.

"We have never played Melbourne. We don't know anything about them, but we can't take them lightly. We will work hard on defense and do our best," said head coach Joe Marx.

Next week (Oct. 6) Pahokee Blue Devils will host Melbourne at 7:30 p.m. in a district game.

Area Sports News - Girl's Volleyball

Here's the deal...One of the members of the Glades Central Raiders coaching staff makes a point during last week's game.

Glades Central Volleyball

The Lady Raiders Volleyball team faced Forest Hill High School at home this week and won 15-3 and 15-2.

Coach Terri Osborne said Shaunte Napier and Miriam Thomas were the high scoring players for the game and Latoya Daniels and Kahnetta Brown took praise as the most improved players offensively and defensively. The coach also picked Shaunte Napier as the player of the week.

"This was a total team effort," said Coach Osborne. "The girls worked hard, showed a lot of determination and pride. The highlight of the first game was the alternating of side in and second side out, according to the coach.

Next week, the team plays Suncoast, Cardinal Newman and the Clewiston Tigers.

Latoya Daniels, a sophomore on the Raider Varsity Girl's Volleyball team was chosen this week's "Offensive Player of the Week."

Latoya is the daughter of Shirley Clark of Belle Glade. She is 15-years-old and stands 5'5" tall.

What does Latoya like about volleyball? "I like working with a team, as a team. I like learning the new skills, volleyball has to offer."

Latoya said she hopes to improve throughout the year and become a better player.

Fishing with Walt Reynolds

The Redman Tournament Trail returned to Lake Okeechobee this week and provided a real good field with an exciting finish. When everyone had weighed in there was a tie for first place. Local angler Gary Milicevic of Clewiston and Billy Bowen Jr. of Ocala, both had five bass weighing 17 pounds, 11 ounces. Per the rules, the director declared a sudden death fishoff!

Both anglers returned to the water and Billy Bowen Jr. caught the first keeper bass, giving him the first place honors.

Gary finished second on Jeff Simes of Punta Gorda claimed third. Billy caught his fish on an Allen lure crawdaddy in heavy cover up north. Gary was using a black grape/green Charlies worm both south and north. Jeff Simes was also throwing a black grape worm. R.W. Knighton of Lutz, and Jim Simes tied for Big Bass with matching 7 pound, 2 ounce lunkers.

It is great to have these tournaments in town. Everyone benefits, especially this time of year. All the motels, gas stations and restaurants were full to capacity. Tournament fishermen are a big help to the local economy in what is considered the dead time of the year.

I was on the road again this week enroute to Flippin, AR, to the Ranger boat factory to pick up my new boat. The leaves are starting to turn and the weather was great.

A drive through the Ozark

Mountains this time of year will make anyone realize how great the outdoors can be.

We will return to the Potomac River in Washington, D.C. this week for the Bass Masters Invitational, the second event of this year's season. Florida will be well represented with the third largest state field of contenders.

Again I will state, if anyone has a subject or event they would like to hear about, feel free to call me or leave a message at the newspaper office. I will try to cover any related subjects.

Have a great week on the lake and enjoy the great fall fishing as it swings into gear.

To all a good bite

Tusculum wins home opener 41-21 over Cumberland-KY

#15 Graham Chancey

5'10" tall 175 lbs. QB
Former Glades Day Gator, Belle Glade.

Saw limited action last year and did not attempt a pass... Had one carry for six yards in 1994... Should take plenty of snaps this fall.

The Tusculum College football team scored 14 points Saturday before ever running a play from scrimmage in defeating Mid-South Conference rival Cumberland College, previously ranked No. 24 in NAIA Division II, 41-21 in the Pioneers' home opener.

The win makes TC 2-1 overall in 1995 and tied for first place in the MSC at 2-0 while Cumberland falls to 2-1 overall and 1-1 in the conference. Tusculum is ranked No. 28 in this week's NAIA Division II poll while the Indians are right behind at 29th.

"I thought our defense kept coming up with the big plays on Saturday at some very critical times," head coach Dewayne Wells said. "This type of game was a real confidence builder for our defense."

CC received the opening kickoff only to fumble the ball away and have junior halfback Stacey Allen (Santeet, GA) take it 29 yards the other way for a touchdown. Senior kicker Jay Marsden (Malone, NY) converted the extra-point as the Pioneers were off to an early 7-0 lead just 13 seconds into the game.

Cumberland got the ball back again but was forced to punt after three plays. Sophomore outside linebacker Jason Vance (Junction City, TN) stormed through a block the punt and senior wide receiver Mark Piscerchio (Morris Plains, TN) scooped up the ball and went 20 yards for a TD. Marsden added the point-after as TC led 14-0 with 13:18 left in the game.

Cumberland concluded the first-half scoring on its ensuing possession, getting its first touchdown of the afternoon on a 48-yard pass play at the 10:25-mark. The PAT failed as the half came to an end at 34:9.

The Pioneers missed a 41-yard field goal with 8:55 showing on the third-quarter clock only to have the Indians capitalize by putting together a six-play, 76-yard scoring drive. A 26-yard pass play capped off the drive with 6:07 to go in the third period. A two-point conversion try failed as the count was 34-15.

CC opened the fourth-quarter scoring with 14:21 remaining in the contest. A 6-yard run finished off a six-play drive covering 57 yards. The two-point conversion attempt failed again as the deficit was trimmed to 34-21.

A Clarity 3-yard TD run ended a five-play, 55-yard drive, giving CC a cushion. Marsden's kick at the 1:24 mark gave Tusculum the 41-21 victory.

Clarity collected 109 yards on 18 carries to lead the Tusculum offense. He surpassed the 3,000-yard rushing plateau for his career and now has 3,105 rushing yards. Clarity also went over the 100-yard rushing mark for the ninth consecutive game.

Mack, the MSC Defensive Player of the Week, had two of the Pioneers' school record six interceptions in the win, plus made five tackles. Senior Kevin Washington (Lake City, SC) also picked up a pair of sacks and made eight stops while junior Justin Runyan (Woodstock, GA) and sophomore Alan Cobble (Afton, TN) also each had an interception.

Junior free safety Kenneth Ross (Monticello, GA) was TC's top tackler with 12. Senior outside linebacker Matt Brown (Kingston, TN) was in on eight tackles as was junior defensive end Stan Grimsley (Thomaston, GA).

Tusculum will be at Campbellsville College for a conference encounter this Saturday (Oct. 7).
